Selectmen's Meeting

JULY 23, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

HURRICANE PREPAREDNESS
COMMUNICATION KEY TO RECOVERY

No sooner had the Board of Selectmen and other town department heads completed a joint meeting last Tuesday on Hurricane Preparedness than the latest weather report announced a potential hurricane named "Bob" brewing in the south Atlantic.

As it turned out, the hurricane threat fizzled out into a storm, but the hurricane season has traditionally extended from July through October, noted a state Civil Defense bulletin.

The report stated it has been many years since a major storm of this kind has reached New England, and the National Weather Service and the state Civil Defense are extremely concerned that we are "due".

The overwhelming consensus of the meeting was that communication is the most important aspect of a successful operation before, during and after a hurricane strikes. Police Chief James Moran cited lack of communication during past disasters as giving the most problems. "Communication is 99 percent of the whole system", he said.

Fire Chief Donald Wood said the first priority should be to get the roads open to the beach areas. He expressed the opinion homeowners should be made aware of their responsibility before leaving their homes, such as shutting off gas. Wood recommended setting up a list of contractors who have bulldozers and ask their assistance to use the equipment for a period of 24 hours after a storm to clear roads. "I don't think this should be left to the last minute, but the bulldozers should be brought to a central point prepared to be assigned to a specific problem road." Robert Gingras, a contractor, agreed to the use of his bulldozers, if they are needed.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta suggested having a supply of chainsaws available for use. A request was issued to owners of chainsaws who wished to go on a list for potential helpers to contact the Selectmen's office.

Chief Moran said he will get a current list of available vehicles that can get into the beach areas to get people out. Moran said he remembered an incident at Crescent Beach when only a high-water vehicle could go through four feet of water. He also recommended a back-up ambulance system and a good supply of EMT's.

District Nurse Ellen Boyd and Evelyn Ellis of the Board of Health explained they would be able to man the shelters, but would need beds. They have a list of people who need special services like oxygen and dialysis. Most of these people couldn't get to the second floor of the Town Hall. Ellen noted it might be possible to temporarily utilize oxygen services at the Mattapoisett Nursing Home. She also said if there is enough notice they could get "our one dialysis patient to the New Bedford dialysis center."

Selectman James Huntoon said human life is the first priority - personal property is second. "We can only take step-by-step action. Even if it's a false alarm at least we can plan our steps."

George "Buster" Evans of Water Street recommended that owners of boats in the harbor take the masts down when there is a hurricane warning and not wait until the last minute. He expressed the opinion that past owners have used "Act of God" as their defense when claiming insurance. But this is not saying the insurance companies will pay. Some liability must lie with the boatyards and the owners. "If a boat runs into my house (which is located next to the town beach) the owner is going to hear from me."

Steven Mach, harbormaster, expressed concern about getting boats out of the harbor so "we don't lose them". He also noted there could be a problem of sightseers on the wharf and would need police coverage.

Chairman DeCosta said the first priority of Brownell Boat Yard will be to get boats out of the harbor and move them up to large parking areas such as Center School and Industrial Park.

William "Nick" Nicholson, water/sewer superintendent, reported there would be 60-72 hours capability to pump water on an emergency generator. He felt the sewer and water pipes close to the water would hold. "But only a hurricane will prove it one way or the other," Nick said.

Departments represented included police, fire, wharf, harbor, health, water/sewer, in addition to owners of town boat yards. DeCosta said the main concerns are flooding waters and high winds. As overall directors, the Selectmen have to set up a policy to handle any disaster.

Chief Wood added that if a hurricane strikes the fire alarm system will be inoperative. However, he noted, Paul Kelley, fire alarm superintendent, assured him he would make sure the alarm from the fire station to the police station was repaired first. When DeCosta said the town has shelters in schools, Chief Wood said if you're talking about food, preparedness - no way. "We've got plenty of coffee. So, what's the bottom line?" asked Wood. "We don't want to wait too long to move on this."

Selectmen announced executive secretary Carol Adams will prepare a list of emergency people and departments to dispense schedules and assignments and when to move. Each department will outline plans and what other departments they will need to interface with. Hopefully, specific plans will be in place no later than August 15. Anyone wishing to help with portable generators, chainsaws or bulldozers should contact the Selectmen's office.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET JOINTLY with Fairhaven Selectmen and their attorney, Thomas Crotty; town Board of Health and Town Counsel Donald Fleming to discuss the latest development in the SEMASS waste-to-energy project.

Of major concern, said Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta are the new figures from George Mallon, President of SEMASS, relative to electric power rebate projections. The towns who have signed contracts were led to believe they would be rebated from the sale of power to ComElectric by an earlier date than now projected. It appears, reported the Selectmen, that lower rebates will increase Mattapoisett's total cost by about 10 percent in 1988. ComElectric's projected rebates do not commence until 1993; therefore, Mattapoisett may pay slightly increasing costs until 1994.

Fairhaven Selectmen and Mattapoisett officials agreed to stand pat at this time. They noted the Fairhaven Finance Committee isn't too happy with the charges indicating an increase to the towns involved. Fairhaven's attorney, Thomas Crotty, said "The worst that could happen is that they (SEMASS) could force us into a new contract to pay more. If SEMASS cancels us out in October 1986, that's the chance we will have to take."

Mattapoisett Selectmen agreed to stand pat, unless our town counsel advised us otherwise. Fleming said he wants to go back and have another look at the contract if the town is thinking of standing pat. Selectman James Huntoon commented how can the Selectmen as elected officials ask the public to put up with these higher costs. "It's so much different since I first signed my name to the first contract," he said.

Daniel C. Lee of the Board of Health said at least the groundwork is done. "We are also looking at alternatives for a couple of years ahead. We're not hurting now as far as our landfill is concerned, but the Cape has a real problem. SEMASS came in saying the town was going to make money in a few years - and now it is going to cost us money."

APPOINTED Dean Duarte, 59 Bayview Avenue, Fairhaven as a part-time police officer at the recommendation of Police Chief James

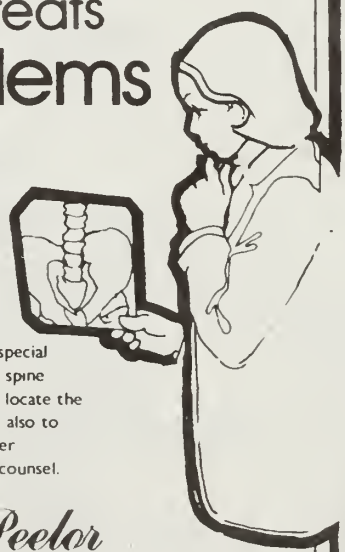
Here's how Chiropractic treats
Back Problems



Persistent or recurring aches in the lower back and limbs may suggest a possible lower spinal or pelvic problem. This often requires a structural correction of the cause in order to relieve the condition. Although drugs may hide the pain temporarily, the spine and sacroiliac must be aligned to their proper position for normal function.

The doctor of chiropractic has made a special study of conditions related to the sacroiliac, spine and nervous system. She seeks to not only locate the problem and give relief from symptoms, but also to correct the fundamental cause as well as offer preventive, rehabilitation, and maintenance counsel.

Zeiterion Activities

A CHORUS LINE TO OPEN AT ZEITERION AUGUST 2nd

A Chorus Line, the most famous, longest running show in the history of Broadway, premiers at the Zeiterion Theatre on August 2nd for six performances.

The Zeiterion Theatre is one of the first theatres in the United States to obtain the rights to produce this musical outside of Broadway.

The 25-member cast of A Chorus Line, selected from 100 performers who auditioned both in New York City and New Bedford this past June, brings to the Zeiterion a wide range of theatrical experience.

The production is directed by two of southeastern New England's most prominent directors, George Charbonneau and Armand Marchand. Musical sequences are staged and choreographed by Clay James with the musical direction by Don Vasconcelles.

A Chorus Line will be presented at the Zeiterion Theatre August 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 at 8:00 p.m. with a 2:00 matinee on August 3rd. Tickets are $16., $13., and $10., with a $2. discount for Senior Citizens and students.

Tickets may be purchased by calling the Box Office at 994-2900.

Her handsome and brightly colored weavings are part of the Museum's exhibition, "A Celebration of Portugal". Nochimow works with children in this exhibit and helps them to create their own small weavings. These works by young artists are also displayed. Ms. Nochimow's weavings will be at the Museum throughout the summer.

The Children's Museum is located at 276 Gulf Road, South Dartmouth and is open Tuesday - Saturday from 10 to 5 and Sundays from 1 to 5.

This year, through a grant from the Massachusetts Lottery's Council for the Arts, the Festival will offer four hours of quality children's entertainment on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and three hours on Sunday from noon to 3 p.m. Puppet shows, storytelling by Bill Harley and magical entertainment by Jon Stetson will be staged in a special children's area in the parking lot of Hiller's Printing Company, on the corner of Bethel and William Streets.

Once again, the loading dock of P. Kaller and Son Wholesale Meats turns into center stage for a full schedule of musical entertainment to include Bay State Bluegrass, the Big Zucchini, Washboard Bandits, the Wickford Express, Jasmine, Cannonball Express and Tara.

For the hungry, a variety of ethnic foods will be available such as linguica, cacoila, Lebanese foods, croissants plus all time favorites like pizza, freshly squeezed lemonade, chowder and fresh fruit cups.

In honor of the 10th anniversary, the New Bedford Preservation Society has commissioned two limited edition Pairpoint cup plates which will first be available at the Festival. One is especially designed for the 10th anniversary and features a detail taken from a piece of scrimshaw on display at the Whaling Museum. The other continues the ongoing series of details from New Bedford architecture. This year's subject is the Italianate doorway from the Jireh Swift House on Madison Street. Both designs were executed by New Bedford artist Evelyn Ramalhete.

One of the Festival's most popular events, the Chinese Auction will be held again this year. You may wish to stop by the booth for a chance at many wonderful gifts donated by area merchants. This year there will be a special section of the auction featuring such gifts as a hot-air balloon ride, a 19-inch portable color television and an antique Pairpoint vase.

GLASS MUSEUM LAUNCHES CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

$300,000 is the goal for The New Bedford Glass Museum's capital campaign, announced last week by Museum President Mary M. Grinnell.

In announcing the campaign, Mrs. Grinnell stated, "Our project is fortunate in having the lead gift already in place. The grant of $60,000 from The Massachusetts Historical Commission is both the impetus and challenge to our $300,000 statement of need."

Mrs. Grinnell's comments referred to a long-range study, commissioned by the Museum's Board of Trustees in 1984. The study

Lloyd Center

SHOREBIRD MIGRATION

Shorebird Migration is the focus of the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies' Weekly Walk to be held on Sunday, August 4, from 9 to 11 a.m.

Many shorebirds migrate long distances, from their northern nesting grounds in Canada to southern reaches of South America. During these extraordinary flights the birds stop to "refuel" at a number of coastal sites. Mud flats, sandy beaches and salt marshes provide food and resting spots for shorebirds, and it is here that we'll spend the morning looking for species which pass through our area in late summer.

Weekly walks are open to the public and are free of charge thanks to support from Marianne Macdonald Real Estate, Inc. Please call the Center at 990-0505 to register for the August 4 Weekly Walk.

SPECIAL WORKSHOP

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies announces a special workshop opportunity for educators entitled Methods in Teaching Coastal Ecology. Methods in Teaching Coastal Ecology is a 2-3 credit, graduate level week-

Organist for these works will be Suzanne McAllister, who will also perform solo organ works on the St. Anne's organ, known as perhaps the finest organ in Massachusetts. Although a $6. donation is requested to defray costs of producing the concert, the community at large is encouraged to attend this inspirational concert, with or without donation. The Kodaly Missa Brevis is one of the great masterpieces of choral literature.

The final two concerts of the KCA season will be held in Recital Hall at SMU on Friday, August 2nd, and Saturday, August 3rd. These two concerts will feature faculty, students and the two choruses in solos, and vocal and instrumental ensembles, and will benefit the Center's scholarship funds. Senior citizens with New Bedford or Fall River Council on Aging ID cards and SMU students will be admitted at half-price. Use parking lots 8 and 9. This year the KCA participant group comes from 17 states and 9 foreign countries, namely Australia, Canada, Italy, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Mexico, and Spain. The International Kodaly Society now boasts a membership of over 40 countries.

is a survey of the images of children in art from 1762-1982. More than sixty oils, seventy works on paper, dolls, toys, furniture and ethnographic art tell both social history and art history by way of portraits, genre scenes and objects.

Robert Viekrey has an established national reputation for, among other distinctions, being among a handful of living American painters who have developed a mastery of the early Renaissance method of egg yoke tempera painting. He holds both a B.A. and a B.F.A. from Yale University. At the Art Students League he took classes from Reginald Marsh and Kenneth Hayes Miller. Few artists have attained the level of acclaim Vickrey enjoys in the face of the bias for abstraction in the art world since the late 1940's. His Bird at Window, 1976 achieves an emotional intensity in an otherwise seemingly static scene of a teenage boy and the shadow of a window frame and bird projected against an interior wall. Robert Vickrey has made his home on Cape Cod for the last fourteen years.

This season her work will be included in the Duxbury Art Center's Barnstable County Exhibition. The Old Boat, 1982 is a fine example of her colorist approach to the marine scene. Although very personal depictions, with her children as frequent subjects, her works receive a wide acceptance for their naturalness and structure.

She has spent a year in Mali, Africa with a rural health project, writing and illustrating manuals for village Health workers and midwives. She translated and/or illustrated collections of Japanese and Bengali folk tales. An author as well as an artist, her books and illustrations have won several awards, including Caldecott Honor Book and ALA Notable Book. Illustrations for her books Dawn and Wiley and the Hairy Man are shown in Young America. Bang-Campbell makes her home in West Falmouth, Cape Cod.

lege. At first a highly accomplished still-life painter, Brega has become a significant trompe l'oeil artist. As with his other paintings, The Arithmetic Test, he intrigues the viewer into a pre-occupation with the memorabilia that is the subject of many of his works. The French term trompe l'oeil (fool the eye) is historically described as illusionism. It is a highly skilled use of pictorial techniques such as perspective and foreshortening to deceive the eye into taking that which is painted for that which is real. Brega is inspired by 19th century American painter Harnett and his followers Peto, Haberle and Goodwin. David Brega paints at his Marshfield home.
